OLD PIKE NEEDS REPAIRS.

Joseph Foulke, Esq., attorney for the township of Upper Dublin, will make a strong personal effort to secure the immediate attention of the county commissioners to the matter of road work on the new highway turnpike through the township. The roadway is not only in bad repair, but the stone arch bridge above Rose Valley is in such condition that it is propped up, and repairs are demanded. The township is unable to save it from ruin. The township of Upper Dublin contemplated, it is stated, expending more than $5000 in the turnpike to put it in first class condition, but the state legislature by repealing the law placing the township under a duty to improve the roadway has taken away this proposed expense.

BIBLE STUDY FOR FRIENDS

Abington First-day School Union
Would Make Gospels More Familiar to Young.

More knowledge of the Bible and greater familiarity with Bible characters and stories for the younger generation were discussed on Saturday at the spring session of Abington First-day School Union held in Quakertown. In many instances this feature is receiving attention, but the opinion was voiced that Bible study in the home was also desired.

Frank Ball, of Quakertown, president, and Alice Ambler, of Plymouth Meeting, served as secretary. Delegates were present from the First-day Schools of Abington, Gwynedd, Norristown, Plymouth Meeting, Haverhill and Quakertown. Eleanor Foulke, of Quakertown, gave a Scripture reading at the opening of the morning session and statistical reports were read from the various schools. Norristown showing the highest enrollment and Haverhill the highest average attendance. Abington has during the past months experienced a revival in numbers and intense interest, the spirit of comradeship being greatly increased, the average attendance also being high.

A paper was presented by Elizabeth Cullin in which she spoke of the message of Quakerism to-day being most important, teaching practical work, not theory. She advocated conference classes which shall deal with present-day problems. Gwynedd School also had high average in attendance, this being largely due to the Young People's Bible Class, which was developing interest in spiritual side of their natures, thinking being but the fore-runners of growth. Lack of preparation was given as a discouraging feature on the part of pupils.

Various problems confronting the first-day school teacher were discussed by Susan H. Jarrett, Eliza Ambler, Elizabeth Ely, Jane G. Kinsey, Elizabeth G. Heacock, Annie Ambler, Eleanor Foulke and Annette Carter. Frank Ball spoke of the unity which knowledge gives, and cited a recent ministerial association where, after discussion of points of similarity of belief, the opinion was voiced "why we're all friends."

The afternoon session opened with prayer by Frank Ball, followed by a hearty address of welcome by Annie Ball Roberts. The presiding officers were elected for another year and the business committee reported the plans for meeting to be Haverhill the 10th of October. A large part of the afternoon was occupied by exercises by the children of Quakertown and other schools.

The question of how to divide large classes into two parts satisfactorily was discussed by John G. Kinsey, of Norristown; Frank Ball and Susan H. Jarrett, the balance of opinion being in favor of holding them together where possible and having assistant teachers, although the usual meeting house does not help in holding large classes.

ROSES BY THE WAY

Thousands Will Bloom Along Railroad Embankments.

The officers of the Pennsylvania Railroad have accepted an offer from Edward Bok, who lives at Merion, on the Main Line, for an experiment in gardening which will surpass anything in beauty ever attempted on an American railroad.

The scheme will embrace the steep bank on the west side of the railroad tracks between Merion and Overbrook stations, and another large bank on the same side of the tracks between Merion and Narberth. It is proposed to plant one thousand trailing rose bushes on each of these banks, so that each embankment will be completely covered and present two solid banks of roses. Each bank is about 400 feet long and from 20 to 25 feet high. The roses selected are known as the Wichuriana variety, a wonderful Japanese rose of trailing habit, which makes a marvelous growth of from six to eight feet during a season. It is a very free and luxuriant bloomer, a single plant, with its trailers, producing from 100 to 150 roses at a time. Abington has during the past months experienced a revival in numbers and intense interest, the spirit of comradeship being greatly increased, the average attendance also being high.

Between these thousands of rose-bushes there will also be planted a thousand plants of the large double English poppy, which blooms in May. These two distinct blooms and effects will be presented to the passengers on the train.

OLD HORSE CAUSE OF TROUBLE.

Wallace Triplett, of Lamont, was the original owner of the horse. He believed the horse had outlived its usefulness, so he disposed of the animal to Clarence Saxton for $25.00, the understanding being that Saxton should take the horse to a professional killer, and whatever he could make on the deal should be his. Saxton started down the York road and a short distance later he met James Smith. Smith bought the horse for $16. An hour later he met Triplett and told him of the deal. The latter communicated with the officials of the Montgomery County branch of the Society for the Prevention of Cruelty to Animals, and Saxton and Smith were arrested. The horse was killed. Saxton paid a fine of $10, and Smith paid costs amounting to about $6.

FRITZI SCHEFF AT THE LYRIC

Miss Fritzi Scheff will be seen at the Lyric theatre, Philadelphia, beginning next Monday, April 17, in her new comic opera which has been christened "The Rosetta." As promised some time ago—in fact during the revival period of "The Mikado"—Victor Herbert has written the score of "The Rosetta." Joseph Herbert, who will play in the cast, is the author of the book. All of the scenes, three in number, are laid in Paris, or thereabouts. Rosetta, the title role, is a pretty flower girl whose father, Aristide Bouton, wants to marry her to the Comte de Paravante who is immensely wealthy but much too old. The Marquis de Montreville, a handsome young cavalry officer on the eve of sailing for Algiers under a cloud, enters the flower shop to purchase a boutonniere. First he meets the acid old aunt—the shop-keeper's sister—and then he almost bumps into Rosetta. It is apparent that he likes the girl but it matters not—the Marquis must sail and at once.

The father of Comte de Paravante hears of his son's projected marriage. His son shall marry no one who is not of his own station. So the Comte has a brilliant idea. He will persuade some nobleman to marry Rosetta and then divorce her. As the Marquis de Montreville is heavily in debt the Comte turns to him. And the Marquis accepts. The marriage, a civil one, is immediately carried through and the Marquis sails with him, having seen his bride for the first time. Rosetta, well she marries the unknown to escape the proverbial "old darling," declaring that whoever her husband may be she will never consent to a divorce.

One may imagine what is in store in the succeeding acts, especially for Rosetta, the Marquis and the poor old Comte.

The cast in support of Miss Scheff includes: Walter Jones as the father, Emma Janvier as the aunt, Eugene O'Brien as the Marquis, Joseph Herbert as the Comte, Olga Birch as Rosetta's cousin, George Graham as a weeping count, Harry McDonough, E. de Varny, Sidney Taylor and others.

HER 103D BIRTHDAY

Mrs. Ann E. Magill is Probably Oldest Baptist in Country.

Mrs. Ann Elizabeth Magill, of 3059 North Sixteenth street, Philadelphia, was 103 years old on Friday. She celebrated the anniversary by holding a family reunion, in which a number of her friends joined.

Mrs. Magill is a daughter of Philip and Catherine Brunner, and was born April 14, 1808, at Castle Valley, near Doylestown. In 1824, she was married to William Boyle Magill, a commission merchant, who died in 1859, leaving her with three children. When a young woman Mrs. Magill joined the New Britain Baptist church and was baptized in a creek by the Rev. Herman Lincoln, a relative of President Lincoln.

Mrs. Magill helped form the Fifth Baptist church, at Seventh street and Susquehanna avenue, Philadelphia, of which she is the oldest member. She also has the distinction of being the oldest Baptist in this country, if not in the world. She is wonderfully preserved and has full possession of her faculties, with the exception of sight which is slowly failing.

DIVORCE/SUIT PENDING

Publicity has just been given the fact that divorce action has been instituted by Mrs. Phoebe Voorhees Drayton against Heyward Drayton, 3d. Mrs. Drayton is a daughter of Theodore Voorhees, vice president of the Reading Railway Company, whose handsome residence is at Melrose.

Mrs. Drayton instituted divorce proceedings some weeks ago. It is reported that the charges desertion. Mr. Drayton is in the banking firm of Pennington, Collet & Co. The couple have been married about eleven years and have three children, the oldest of whom is nine years old.

The couple live at Prospect and W streets, Oak Lane, but Mr. Drayton has not been making his home there for some time.

STORING WINTER GARMENTS.

Brush and sun all pieces to be stored.

The best thing to do is to stretch them on the clothes line some sunny day.

Wind and air will freshen them wonderfully.

When storing a cool place should be chosen.

Anything silk or satin-lined, such as jackets, should be closely examined for spots on the inside.

White and other delicate linings grow grimy from the dresses they are worn over.

Any soiled portion is to be wiped with a cloth, wet with gasoline or other cleansing fluid.

They should be lined with newspapers laid in so that at both sides and both ends the papers come at least a foot above the top.

Any of the prepared cambray substitutes are good for adding to keep moths away.

Whatever is chosen should be put into each corner of the box, using a small handrail.

If a delicate color is to be exposed to the preservative it is safer to wrap the latter in tissue paper, for some times the color is affected by contact.

A garment to be put away is folded carefully, stuffed it slightly with papers, as when packing a trunk.

The moth preservative should be scattered through evenly.

MARRIAGE A SECRET 302 DAYS.

After 302 days of secrecy Joseph Donnelly and Miss Katharine Young, both of Plymouth Meeting, have announced their marriage.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. Miss Young is a young business man. It was on June 11, of last year, that the young couple left Plymouth Meeting, presumably to spend the day in Philadelphia. Instead they went to Wilmington and were married.

The secret was faithfully kept until a day or two ago when Mrs. Donnelly went to the home of her husband's parents and quietly laid her marriage certificate on the table in front of her mother-in-law. Forgiveness followed.

Mr. and Mrs. Donnelly will reside at Plymouth Meeting.

ARGUE ON R. N. CARSON'S WILL.

Contestants Allege Under Influence, and Hold That Girls' College Bequest Can't Stand.

Argument of counsel in the contest of the will of Robert N. Carson, the Philadelphia traction magnate, was heard before Judge Solly in Orphans' court, at Norristown, on Saturday.

The contestants assert undue influence on the part of Mrs. Carson, and that the bequest for the establishment of a college for girls similar to Girard College, for boys, is impossible because of some of its provisions. They contend that the bequest falls because of the fact that witnesses to the will are officers of the Real Estate Title Insurance and Trust Company, which is to be trustee of the college project.

Judge Martin Wade, of Iowa, argued for the contestants, and Attorney General John C. Bell, upheld the will. The court reserved its decision.

GIVES UP SHARE IN MILLIONS TO MARRY

To become the wife of William D. Nelson, prominent attorney and clubman, of Philadelphia, Mrs. Kate Elkins, widow of William Elkins, Jr., will relinquish her right to a third interest in $1,250,000, and all the personal property included in her share of the estate of her former husband, late of Elkins Park.

This fact became known this week when Mr. Nelson confirmed the report of his engagement to Mrs. Elkins. A provision of the will, he said, directed that in the event of the widow's marrying again her share of the estate shall be divided between her two children. The will containing this provision was probated at Norristown. Mr. Elkins died nine years ago.

The date for the wedding has not been set, but it is expected that it will take place in the near future. Mr. Nelson said it would be quite owing to the death of his father, Thomas Nelson, a year ago.

Felton B. Elkins and Miss Louise Elkins will receive the share of the estate relinquished by their mother.

Originally each of the girl and her interest. In addition to this, Felton B. Elkins inherited a quarter of a million dollars from his grandmother, Mrs. William L. Elkins, Sr., who died last June.

While Mr. Nelson's bride-to-be gives up this fortune, she has another in her own name. Her father, former Senator Charles M. Felton, of California, died in the gold fields in forty-nine, and he and his daughter are reported to be wealthy.

Since the death of her husband Mr. Elkins has spent most of the time with her father in San Francisco and across the country. She is now visiting friends in Philadelphia.

Mr. Nelson lives with his mother at 325 South Twelfth street.

Both Mrs. Elkins and Mr. Nelson are prominent socially. Mr. Nelson is a law partner of Clinton Rogers Woodruff, and was at one time mentioned for the orphan's court bench.

He is a graduate of the University of Pennsylvania, and is a member of the City, University and St. Anthony's clubs of this city; the City Club, of New York, and St. Anthony's club, of Boston. He is also a member of the Society of the Sons of the Revolution and of the Delta Psi fraternity. He is church warden of St. Elizabeth's Episcopal church.

Mrs. George R. and daughters, of Doylestown, who have been abroad, returned on the Princess Irene which was stranded on Long Island. The passengers have since been landed.

Register of Wills Martin at Philadelphia, has admitted to probate the testament of Barbara Zettler, who died in 1908, leaving an estate valued at $4200.

TIMELY RECIPES

TWO BANANA DESSERTS.

A banana pulp is made by putting six ripe bananas through a vegetable press and mixing with the pulp the juice of two large oranges.

One, a little salt, tablespoonful of powdered sugar and tablespoonful of butter dissolved in hot water. Stand on ice until nearly thickened, then add stiffly beaten whites of eggs, chopped pecans and maraschino cherries. Serve cold with whipped cream.

A pulp of bananas mixed with lemon juice, strawberry preserves and marshmallows, then stirred into a lemon jelly makes a nice dessert served with whipped cream. Sometimes a half pint of the cream is stirred into the jelly when beginning to set.

IRISH STEW WITH DUMPLINGS.

Select three or four pounds from the middle cut of the shin, or the upper part of the chuck rib. The meat from a large Irish roast is also good for this dish. For the best results the piece selected should contain bone, fat and lean meat.

Large bones and superfluous fat should be removed before serving. To prepare, remove the meat as far as possible from the bones, and cut it into pieces of a size suitable for serving. Dredge or roll the meat in salt, pepper and flour and let brown in hot drippings. Remove to a saucpan, add boiling water to cover and let simmer until the meat is tender—about three hours. Peel an onion and each person to be served; let boil 15 minutes, then drain the onion and add to the meat.

After the meat has cooked an hour, add these to the meat. Add also an hour later, a new carrot, or several slices of older carrots for each service. When the meat is nearly tender, add a potato, peeled, parboiled and rinsed, for each service. Add at this time salt and pepper as needed. When the potatoes are nearly done, add the onion mixture for dumplings; let these rest on the potatoes to keep them out of the broth, which should be nearly done. Cover close and cook 15 minutes without opening the kettle.

DUMPLINGS FOR STEW.

Sift together two cups of flour, half teaspoonful of salt and two slightly rounded teaspoonfuls of baking powder; with the tips of the fingers work in one or two teaspoonfuls of butter.

Then use sweet milk to mix to a dough; knead slightly, pat and roll into a fer to use a little more butter in the mixture and bake it as blacuit, then serve these known the slow is the place of the dumplings.

No other medicine for woman's ills has received such wide-spread and unqualified endorsement. No other medicine we know of has such a record of cures as has Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

For more than 30 years it has been curing woman's ills such as inflammation, uterine, blood troubles, irregularities, periodic pains and nervous prostration, and it is unequalled for making women safely through the period of change of life.

Mrs. Pinkham, at Lynn, Mass., invites all sick women to write her for advice. Her advice is free, and always helpful.

We Give Satisfaction--Results prove it

The intimate knowledge of the oculist (registered physician) enables him to determine quickly and accurately just what your eyes need. You may need glasses or you may not, our oculist will tell you. If it is a case of glasses he will thoroughly examine your eyes and prescribe for them. Our oculist will then adjust the glasses to your eyes.

We give satisfaction where others cannot, because we combine the services of an oculist (registered physician) and an optician at one cost and one sitting. Our oculist examines your eyes; our optician makes and adjusts your glasses.

Glasses as low as $1 Examination free.

The Bucks County E. S. Convention will be held in Richboro, Saturday, May 15. Mrs. Sarah Smith's new barn is progressing finely. Joseph Taylor has the contract. John Lams and force are busy making extensive improvements at the home of Leonard Slack. Jacksonville Sunday school opened last week for the year. All are welcome. Frank W. Scott is superintendent. Two beautiful new E. M. F. automobiles were delivered on Wednesday. One a five-seated touring car to Frank Gill, the other to Edward Luff. The next meeting of the Northampton Farmers' Club will be entertained at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Edward Jamison, at Ivyland, May 19. George Search is still in the hospital suffering from a wound in the foot.

While cutting wood two toes were almost cut off. George is doing nicely and it is thought the toes can be saved.

JOHNSVILLE

Mrs. Myra Bennett is on the sick list. Mrs. J. Tompkins suffered a stroke on Thursday night last. Miss Alma Walton spent the week end visiting city friends. Oliver P. Wilson is building a new kitchen to his farm house here. Mrs. James Masland spent several days in the city this week visiting friends. Mrs. James Tomlinson has been on the sick list for the last week or so with grip. Mrs. Joseph Russell was the guest of friends in the city a couple of days last week. Mrs. M. J. Kline and Miss Jessie Kline spent Wednesday with friends in the city. There will be special services in the Johnsville chapel, Sunday evening. The public sale of A. M. Mullin last Saturday was well attended. Warren Cornell was the agent in charge. John Mason is making repairs both inside and out to his mother's property here, lately vacated by Mr. Pearson.

HATBORO HOME HAPPENINGS

BUSINESS MEN MEET.

On Good Friday the bank and schools were closed.

Mrs. Mary Weld spent Tuesday in Philadelphia. Mrs. John Bennett, of Hatboro, spent Wednesday with Mrs. Thomas Potter. Mary Adams of Philadelphia, was the guest of Miss E. Lukens on Sunday.

Kathryn E. Allen returned to school on Tuesday, after three weeks of illness. Mrs. Charles Downs, of Hortham, was calling on Hatboro friends on Wednesday.

Mrs. Warren Moore and two children, of West Philadelphia, visited her parents this week.

Miss Ruth Evans visited her cousin, Miss Sophia Corner, of Doylestown, over Saturday and Sunday.

Garden making is engrossing the attention of many in the borough. The late season has delayed the work.

Mrs. Russell Jones and two children, of Harrisburg, were visiting her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Pearson Jones, this week.

Miss Lillian Trego and Clifford Randall, both of Newtown, spent the week end with Miss Elsie Buckman and brother Samuel.

The ladies of the Episcopal church will hold a cake sale at the home of Mrs. Joseph Downs this Saturday afternoon, benefit for the church. All are invited.

Borough council is said to be again considering a scheme to take a part of a man's property at a high price in order to widen a street. To do this it will be necessary to increase the tax rate. This snake has appeared before the council but has never succeeded in wriggling through.

Rev. F. C. Colby will preach in the Baptist church this Easter Sunday at 10:30. The subject being "The Resurrection." Mary Colby Harper will sing at this service. The evening service at 7:45, will consist chiefly of song, the choir rendering the cantata, "The Resurrection." Baptism will be observed at the close of this service.

The Montgomery County W. C. T. U. will endeavor to organize a branch in Hatboro next Monday afternoon, April 17th, at 2:45 o'clock, in the lecture room of the Baptist church. All Christian women of the neighborhood are earnestly requested to attend this meeting, and help a good cause along. Miss Hendrick, an organizer of the State W. C. T. U., will be present, and address the audience.

The Dager-Robinson Automobile Company have made considerable preparation for the opening of their new garage this Saturday afternoon and evening. There will be several new models of automobiles and a stock of accessories on view. Light refreshments are to be served. This firm booked an order this week for one of their handsome E. M. F. fully equipped touring cars, to be delivered to a prominent Hortham farmer.

It is reported that Will N. Thomas and family, who reside on Byberry avenue, east of the railroad, will move from our borough to New Haven, Conn., some time on or before the 1st of July. Mr. Thomas is connected with the State of Maryland, having served as Sergeant at Company, having been given the position of Major. The change is an advancement in his business way. The Thomas' will miss taking an active interest in the doings of the borough. Mr. Thomas is also president of the borough school board.

Concession Secured on Local Telephone Rate—Railroad Will Not Consider Improvement in Service at This Time—Booming Trolley to Hartsville.

The regular monthly meeting of The Business Men's Association was held at the borough building on Thursday evening. President Reading was in the chair and Secretary Cornell read the minutes.

The New Industry Committee reported progress, while the Publicity Committee reported the getting out of the 5000 folders and the members of the association can get them by applying to the secretary, as they are at his office.

Charles Deckleman, of the Public Service committee, reported that their petition to the railroad was sent to A. T. Dice, general manager, and a reply was received from Vice President Voorhees, who said in part that he would give the matter his urgent consideration and would ask the indulgence of the association to wait until the completion of the elevated road, which would be early this summer.

The committee further reported that they had a conference with the Bell Telephone authorities regarding the rate to Philadelphia. The effort is to get a ten-cent rate, as has Amherst, instead of fifteen cents. Very little encouragement, however, was given to this request, as Hatboro is sixteen miles from City Hall and ten-cent rate is only for fifteen or less miles from City Hall. The committee then made a request that a car be run to the station at Willow Grove, and this matter received the approval of the officers of the company and all the probabilities of success are in the near future.

President DeConroy and Secretary Keller, of the Hartsville Business Men's Association, were present, and asked that the Hatboro Association send them a response to the Rapid Transit Company for the extension of the trolley line from Hatboro to Hartsville.

Mr. Keller made a report taken from a tabulated statement, which was selected by a committee of five of the Hartsville Association, showing what business the trolley road might expect by an extension of their line. It was estimated that at least 28,000 fares could be counted upon and that between 1100 and 1200 hundred tons of freight and 2500 bushels of produce could be counted upon by those in the neighborhood each year for freight.

When questioned as to where all the trolley riders were to come from a letter from Christ's Home, which was sent upon the last of the increase as nearly every one coming to the home would pay many dollars for the privilege of boarding at Philadelphia.

Two new members were elected. They were H. M. Wells, who resides on Byberry avenue, and Rev. J. H. Spring, who resides on 11th street. The latter was elected on the 1st of July. Mr. Thomas is connected with the State of Maryland, having served as Sergeant at Company, having been given the position of Major. The change is an advancement in his business way. HATBORO HOME HAPPENINGS

Thomas Reading has been on the sick list.

Miss Jennie Spogell has been ill at her home.

George Shepherd has been confined to his home by illness.

Harry Morris is building a private garage on his lot in the rear of his house on Lehman avenue.

Rev. J. P. Shook, wife and daughter, are sojourning at Ocean City, where they have gone for a much needed rest.

A delegation of members of Eagle Lodge, of Huntingdon Valley, paid a fraternal visit to Loller Lodge on last Tuesday night.

The monthly meeting of the building and loan association was held on last Monday night. A new series of stock was started.

The Ushers' Association of the Baptist church, was entertained last Wednesday evening by George Pletcher, at his home on Moreland avenue.

The Social Union of the Baptist church will be entertained next Monday evening, 17th, at the home of Mr. and Mrs. James Lyons, of Woodmont.

George Billeys' new house on Chester street is covered in. It is of frame two and a half stories, and contains conveniences. Jacob Puff is the builder.

The choir of the Baptist church will render a cantata, "The Resurrection," this Sunday evening, Easter. There will also be special music in the morning. Everybody welcome.

In the Methodist church on Sunday, Rev. Dr. Frank Parkin, District Superintendent and Rev. Richard Radcliff, preached sermons of exceptional power and of spiritual uplift.

Prof. Borden, of Philadelphia, the owner of the former Butler mill property, has cleared the land of bushes and undergrowth, and is making the whole tract more attractive.

A matron who thinks she knows, says: Love is misery, sweetened with imagination, salted with tears, spiced with doubt, coated with novelty—and swallowed with your eyes shut.

Hatboro's high school baseball team was held to an array of goose-eggs, Friday while the Doylestown high school team piled up 12 runs in a game that was full of interest. It was the first of the scholastic games of the season.

The twenty-fifth anniversary of Fortuna Lodge, K. of P., will be observed in the castle hall on last Sunday evening. An excellent program has been prepared including addresses by the Grand Lodge officers and speakers by the Hatboro quartette. An elaborate lunch is also to be served.

The crack degree team of Washington Camp, No. 273, P. O. S. of A., of this borough, have been selected to perform the work on several of the candidates of Camp of District No. 4, of Montgomery county. The next district convention has been called for the first Friday night in May, to be held in this borough.

Ervin J. Amber has moved into his new house on Montgomery avenue, opposite new street. It is of frame and contains conveniences. He also has built a paint shop on his lot. A. H. Slack's house on Montgomery avenue, near Northampton street, is approaching completion. It is of frame, roofed with asbestos shingles and contains conveniences.

The pulpit in the M. E. church on Easter Sunday will be occupied by Rev. J. G. Bickerton, D. D. Corresponding Secretary of the Philadelphia City Missionary and Church Extension Society, and in the evening, Rev. Thomas Kirkpatrick, D. D., Chaplain at the House of Correction, Corner pastor here. Both of these clergymen are forcible orators. Special Easter music will also be rendered by the choir.

A team belonging to T. B. Shriver, of the Wilson farm, on Byberry road, east of Hatboro, was left standing at Buckman's coal yard, on Monday morning. A locomotive came along and frightened the horse, making him run away. The carriage struck the telegraph pole within a few feet of where the horse started to run and where the horse freed itself from the running out Moreland avenue to York road, down York road to Byberry avenue—and out Byberry avenue. Just as it was crossing the railroad the driver of the team caught his horse, brought him back and hitched up to the carriage. There was very little damage done.

William Hirst, who has been assisting Herman Schmuck in his barber shop, for the past several months, has given notice of his resignation. Few people in the town have known that Hirst is a well-known circus clown and horse trainer. He is known in the show business as Clown Loretta and this year will join the Wister Show and will perform with ponies and donkeys. Hirst is also something of a ventriloquist and has amused a number of his friends during this winter by his ability in this line. He also was at one time a Logan's moving picture artist, who goes about performing in front of the machine while pictures are being taken.

The funeral of William Marshall, son of Rev. J. P. Shook, was held on Saturday afternoon in the Methodist church, and was largely attended. The services were in charge of Rev. Frank Parkin, D. D. District Superintendent. The burial was in the cemetery of Port Richmond church, Charles W. Burns, of Calvary church, Germantown, Frank C. Colby, of the Hatboro Baptist church, William Dewaring, of Hamburg, E. H. Hoffman, of Willow Grove. The pall bearers were Ralph Stone, Raymond Crockett, Alvin Winner, Ralph Hungerford, Fred Green and William Gilbert, scholars of the Sunday school. The formal services were numerous and handsome. Beautiful solo were also rendered by Miss Hattie Jones, Internist at Hatboro cemetery.

Miss Mabel Darrah spent Saturday in the city.

A concrete pavement has been put down in front of Penrose Robinson's new store on York street, by W. H. Raisher.

A largely attended meeting of the members of Lient John H. Fisher Post, G. A. R., was held in the Post room on last Monday night.

W. K. Goentner sold his stock, farm implements, etc., at public sale on Tuesday at fair prices. The Goentner farm was recently sold to Dr. Seltzer.

About three inches of wet snow, which glistened in the bright sunlight Sunday morning from every tree and shrub and all exposed surfaces, made a sight beautiful to behold.

LOAD OF HAY BURNED

Caught Fire From Gasoline Street Lamp in Kensington.

A load of hay, being delivered by William Brown, of Oxford Valley, struck a gasoline street lamp at Paley and Berks street, Philadelphia, at 6 o'clock Friday morning, setting fire to the hay.

Passerby rushed to the driver's assistance and succeeded in unfasting the horses. The load was then dumped into the street and a bucket brigade formed until the firemen arrived. The loss will be about $50.

HOMESICK YOUTH A SUICIDE

Ross Gilbert, 20 years old, employed as a farm hand on the place of Harry Property, near Byberry, committed suicide by hanging himself with a halter to a rafter of the barn. Corner King, of Norristown, was notified on Saturday and rendered a verdict of death by hanging.

Gilbert went to work for Property on March 20 from his home in Revette, Bucks county. He was subject to fits of homesickness. Members of the household think that homesickness was the real cause of his taking his own life. The body was taken to Jenkintown to await word from the lad's relatives.

SAVED BOY FROM ENGINE PATH

Earl Clark, 14 years old, of 227 Church lane, Germantown, was jolted from the back of a wagon on which he was riding as it crossed the Philadelphia and Reading Railroad at Chelton avenue last Saturday night, his head striking the rails, knocking him unconscious, just as a southbound train approached at rapid speed. Frank Herman, of East Willow Grove avenue, Wyndmoor, saw the lad fall and dashed to the track and pulled him off just in time to save the boy's life.

The boy, still unconscious, was placed in the wagon, from which he was jolted and rushed to the Germantown Hospital, where it was found that he had sustained severe lacerations of the scalp and other injuries. Meanwhile Herman boarded the train and went to the city.

Miss M. Adele Quigley, of Fox Chase, spent Sunday with her parents, Chris. H. Bean, a former resident here, has returned to the Grove after living some time near Quakertown.

James Kewson & Sons, of Cheltenham, on Monday planted the annualberry about the residence of O. E. C. Robinson.

J. H. Dunbar and Miss E. A. Dunbar have returned from their winter home in Florida to Willow Grove Heights, for the summer.

The work of sinking an artesian well on the Ferguson lot, which was tried without success earlier in the season, has been resumed by a heavier drilling machine.

Saturday evening, April 8, a birthday party was held at 104 Highland avenue, Willow Grove, in honor of George B. Denehaeck, Jr. All spent a pleasant evening.

Harry E. Hosenauer returned to his home at Welsh road and Fairview avenue last week, after an extensive trip through the South, visiting a number of points in Florida.

A large number of houses are under construction near Crestmont station. Many of them are small structures, there are curious architectural effects presented. Especially noticeable are some of the hand made "bungalow" style.

The Mothers' Meeting of the W. C. T. U. held at the home of Mrs. Ed. U. Lever, on Horace avenue, Abington, on Tuesday afternoon, was addressed by Mrs. Robbins, of Kentucky, who spoke most beautifully on the subject of "Leading, and Not Driving, Children."

Several hundred people attended the concert given by the W. C. T. U. in the Methodist church last Friday evening, and enjoyed a delightful program. The Ursinus quartette more than fulfilled the expectations of the reader. Mrs. Zentz, was at her best, and Mrs. H. S. Detweiler, of Willow Grove, proved a charming vocalist. The affair was likewise successful financially.

The Orphans' Court sale of the stone house and lot of about three acres belonging to the estate of Tamson Murphy, was held on Saturday last. The property is situated on the York road, just above the Grove. It was sold for $3910 to John McKee, of Philadelphia. Charles S. Kinsey is the executor of the estate and E. O. Mason was the auctioneer.

Put to work on a truck farm under the eye of the court was the fate of James Clitchfield, a colored boy, aged 13 years, of Willow Grove, who was assigned before the Court for delinquency. He stole ten dollars and a gold watch from his aunt and bought a bicycle with the receipts. His three brothers, Officer C. H. Meener, of Willow Grove, said, are bad. The hearing was held at Norristown last Saturday.

Davisville—Southampton

To Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Joffe, a son.

The roadbed of the turnpike is being resurfaced.
Mrs. Jane Beane has been visiting her son in Philadelphia.

An addition is being erected to the Hoffman house on the turnpike.
The fire company held an encouraging meeting on last Friday evening.

Mr. and Mrs. Monroe Stout entertained relatives to dinner on Sunday last.

Gilbert McCall, of Winnepeg, Canada, is visiting Elder Durand's family. His engagement to Miss Edith Durand is announced.

Albert Hogeland and wife stopped here on their way from Florida to their Western home.

George Stockburger, Jr. has purchased a new automobile.

William C. Becker moved the household goods of Mrs. Courtney and Miss Woodrow from Davisville to Hatboro Thursday. Mr. Becker is now engaged in moving and his work is giving entire satisfaction.

Rev. A. W. Anderson will preach at the usual hours of the Baptist church, this Sabbath. Morning subject, "Easter." Evening sermon will be, "The True Test of Power." "The Green Ideal." There will be special music at both services. All welcome.

The life and drum corps preparing to hold an entertainment in the near future in order to secure funds necessary for uniforms. The committee on uniforms presented a sample suit at the last meeting which appeared to please the members. A street parade will be given about May 1st.

The illustrated lecture given by Rev. A. W. Anderson last Wednesday evening on "Ben Hur" in the Fairville Baptist church, proved to be quite a success, as the building was crowded. The choir rendered the "Silver Chord," Harry Wolf, a solo, "Holy City," made quartette "Love's Old Song," "Ladies' quartet," "Rock of Ages," all of which were illustrated and varied by lantern views. Music was also furnished by the Mandolin club. A sold was given for the long shore fire for having sold the greatest number of tickets among the girls and Albert, who was awarded a gold suit for having sold the greatest number among the boys. Everyone was well pleased with the success of the lecture.

The play "East Siders," given at Richboro on Thursday, April 13, has been enthusiastically received and the members of the cast have been congratulated for their fine work and most of the audience have pronounced it the best ever given by amateurs. On Saturday evening, April 15th, the play "The Valley of the Kings" will be given at the same place.

First baseball game of the season will be played April 22nd, when the married men of the town will line up against the unmarried. Several new players will be seen in the regular team and from all indications local success will be theirs.

The Southampton Fire Company held its monthly meeting. In the absence of President Guy Leedom, and Vice president, Fred Kohler, the meeting was conducted by Chief, O. Meyer, who urged the members to take a stronger interest and work hard to secure more equipment and a permanent place for housing the apparatus, and additional space to afford a meeting and club room for the members.

The committee on raising funds for the purchase of a new fire engine, composed of W. Yerkes, H. Leedom, and P. Dannehower, to ascertain the cheapest price for a suitable lot and report at next meeting. It was also decided to hold a carnival in the spring, and the matter was given in charge of a committee composed of Thomas Beane, R. Severns, and Leonard Stockburger, who are residents of a favorable report, which was accepted and they were ordered to go ahead with the work.

Application for membership was re-patriated and P. Leedom was appointed a committee of two to look into the matter of securing a junior to keep the apparatus in good shape. Frank O. Donnell, W. Yerkes and Rev. Anderson were appointed assistants on the Junior committee. The committee for April are Monroe Stout, Fred Kohler, P. Dannehower, L. Stockburger, and Leonard M. Thompson. On motion of H. Leedom the secretary was ordered to send out monthly notices of meetings.

Splendid for the Blood

"Being all run down last spring I was advised to take Pinkham's Blood Purifier. I tried one bottle, and got such quick relief that by the time I had taken three bottles I felt like a new person. After taking the medicine I gained twenty pounds in three months."—AARON WISNIAW, 60 Washington Street, Lynn, Mass.

At this season of the year almost every one needs a reliable blood purifier or spring medicine. This is indicated by that tired, "dragged-out" feeling—humors and eruptions which appear on the face and body,—and unless the blood is purified and enriched more serious consequences are liable to follow.

Pinkham's Blood Purifier

The best spring and blood medicine, is prepared by the Lydia E. Pinkham Medicine Company, of Lynn, Mass. You know this Company. You know that Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound is the standard medicine for women; your common-sense tells that the company which owns so successful and valuable a medicine as that could never afford to risk its reputation by putting on the market any other medicine not of the same high degree of excellence. When you buy medicine prepared by this company you get the best, and Pinkham's Blood Purifier is The Best.

OAK LANE

DEATH OF MRS. MARY STEWART.

Mrs. Mary E. Stewart, who was the first woman president of St. Luke's Hospital, died Tuesday at her home in Oak Lane. Until a year ago she was president of the hospital. Mrs. Stewart was active in charitable work.

The descendant of a revolutionary family, she was born in Baltimore. During the Civil War she was active in collecting and forwarding clothing and supplies to the Federal troops. In 1871 she came to Philadelphia.

She assisted in the founding and organization of the Union Methodist church, 21st and Diamond streets, and of St. Martin's Episcopal church, Oak Lane.

She was also the founder and for several years the president of the Ladies' Review Club of Oak Lane. Mrs. Stewart is survived by one son, Dr. George W. Stewart, professor of medical history at the Hahnemann Medical College.

Miss Dorothy Scribner is home from Smith College for the Easter holidays. Mr. and Mrs. Shaw, of Melrose, are in California, as is Mrs. V. O. Laurens, also of Melrose.

Miss Laura Williams, of Oak Lane, entertained Miss Frances Millon, of Tioas, and Miss Ida Horne, of Camden.

Joseph B. Freund has returned from a visit to Washington, D. C., and has leased a house on Mountain avenue, Melrose Park.

Mrs. Frederick Kiel entertained a 500 party, Wednesday, at which time

"I wish to say that I have used Sloan's Liniment on a lame leg that has given me much trouble for six months. It was so bad that I couldn't walk sometimes for a week. I tried doctors' medicine and had a rubber bandage for my leg, and bought everything that I heard of, but they all did me no good, until at last I was persuaded to try Sloan's Liniment. The first application helped it, and in two weeks my leg was well."—A. L. HUNTER, of Hunter, Ala.

OF INTEREST TO FARMERS.

TIMELY TOPICS OF PLANTS AND PESTS DISCUSSED WEEKLY
By H. A. Surface, State Zoologist of Pa.

CREMATE THE BUGS NOW.

Prof. H. A. Surface, State Zoologist of Pennsylvania, calls attention of gardeners, farmers and orchardists, at this time of year to the importance of raking together and burning all possible rubbish on the place, not only for the purpose of a general spring cleaning, but also to get rid of various pests which hibernated or passed the winter protected by such material.

Certain insects such as the adults of the Asparagus Beetle, the large Squash Bug, and others pass the winter in any rubbish where they can find protection, being found especially in the garden and in or near fragments of plants which they infested. Absolutely clean farming is recognized as being fully as important in controlling certain species of insects, as is the use of the spray pump. The destruction of such insects as those above mentioned before they come from their winter quarters, and can so easily be killed by burning the rubbish that has given them winter protection, is strongly urged at just this particular time.

In burning any material it is advisable to do this on cultivated ground, rather than upon a waste plot for the purpose of getting the benefit of the ashes as a valuable fertilizer to the soil. All ashes contain more or less potash and lime, and these are essential elements of plant food. Thus in burning rubbish piles the gardener is not only destroying certain pests which might later cause him considerable damage, but is also enriching his soil and burning out certain weed seeds that can be likewise be destroyed by the heating of the soil at the place where the fire is built.

PREPARE TO DESTROY PESTS EARLY.

Canker Worms to be in Allegheny County.

State Zoologist Surface has received at his office in Harrisburg, some plum twigs encircled with irregular bands of eggs, sent by a valued correspondent in Allegheny county. Upon examination Dr. Surface found that these were the eggs of a

Canker Worm, and at once wrote an important and timely letter of warning, as follows:
"The eggs which you sent to us from your plum trees are those of the Fall Canker Worm. From these will hatch little 'loop worms,' 'measuring worms' or 'span worms,' more properly called 'Canker Worms,' which would feed on the leaves of the trees and grow until almost midsummer, when they will suddenly disappear and go into the ground, and remain there until the latter part of the fall, and then come forth. The winged females would climb the trunks of the trees to the twigs and deposit their eggs. In this State they have the habit of remaining in the ground until late winter, when they climb the trees to lay their eggs."

It is desirable for you to remove as many of these eggs by hand as possible, taking care not to merely drop them on the ground, as by so doing they may hatch there, and climb the trunk of the tree to the leaves to feed, but we recommend destroying them. "Also, it will be impossible to remove all of them by hand, and as it looks as though there might be quite an outbreak of the Canker Worm there this spring, I would advise you, by all means, to be prepared to spray at once with arsenate of lead as soon as the leaves unfold, and the young worms commence to feed. They are much more easily killed by spraying while they are young. You can do a better job by spraying, and you can save the leaves and fruit on your trees if this is done early. If you wait until after the pests have been present for some time, they will have injured the trees considerably, and they will also be harder to kill. For this reason it is advisable for you to order your spray pump and arsenate of lead at once. You can thus destroy them by using two pounds of the poison in each fifty gallon barrel of water or spray liquid."

THE LIME-SULFUR SEDIMENT.
A correspondent from Lehighton, Pa., recently wrote to Prof. H. A. Surface, State Zoologist, asking for information concerning certain details in making lime-sulfur solution, particularly in regard to the sediment which is left in the bottom of the kettle. Prof. Surface gave him the following valuable suggestions:
"Your plan of letting the material settle after boiling and before attempting to strain it, is all right. It is the red liquid which fills the scale and not the sediment. However, you can use the sediment by stirring it up in water, and letting it settle again, and thus get a great deal of strong liquid to dilute, but it should be tested with the hydrometer, as all lime-sulfur sprays should be at the time you are putting it on the trees.

"If it is not strong enough to make the hydrometer test of 1.03, add a little more of the strong liquid to it. If it is stronger than this, you can add a little more water, if you wish. Also, if the sulfur is not dissolved in the sediment, you can add more time and boil it again, either before or after drawing off the liquid the second time. You will thus be able to use up the sulfur that was previously uncombined, and you will have no waste in throwing away any excess of lime that there may be. You can put it on the ground around your trees if you wish."

"You can also use the sediment as a tree borer paint, applied to the trunks of your trees with a brush. It is especially valuable to prevent borers in peach trees, if applied about the middle of June and again about the first of August."

"I can send you a circular descriptive of the hydrometer, which is an instrument which you should have. This should be purchased from a firm dealing in such supplies, of which I can give you several names and addresses, if desired."

GARDEN HINTS.

Time to plant peas in the garden. They will stand considerable cold.

Topdress the asparagus bed with bone-meal and nitrate of soda. These are better than barnyard manure, as they do not introduce nearly so many weed seeds.

Divide the dahlia roots and start some, but not all of them. The early-planted-out dahlias come into flower during the hot weather, and they will not give so large flowers as later-planted roots.

FARM CLUB TOPICS.

The Buckingham Farmers' Club held its regular monthly meeting at the home of Mr. and Mrs. John Hinkler, Saturday, April 8th, with a good attendance. Farm, general and domestic economy topics were considered. The next meeting will be held on May 6, at the home of John Lowr.

The program will include the following questions:

"May apple trees which are heavy croppers every second year be made to bear a good crop annually, and how?" Frank Pursel.

"Is molasses a profitable dairy food and what of its results?" John Rinkler.

"What is your opinion of the caption 'White House to Wall Street,' and vice versa?" John Underwood.

"Which is the most profitable land or water fowl?" Mrs. Joseph O. Wismer.

"When and where should a farmer's wife take her vacation to derive the most benefit?" Mrs. A. H. Traneau.

"Are the agricultural interests of the country looked after and considered in proportion to other interests?" William Hillis.

"Which is better to send to the Legislature professional men or farmers?" William Wilson.

Solebury Farmers' Club at its meeting on Saturday last, took up the question of asking the Reading Railway Company to place a refrigerator milk car on the N. E. R. R. New milk regulations in Philadelphia require that milk temperature must not be below 60 degrees on the platform in the city.

Passengers in a crowded Willow Grove car were thrown into a panic and two were injured when the car jumped the tracks on Old York road in front of the Jewish Hospital Sunday afternoon. The car ran along the road for about 20 feet, finally striking a stone wall which surrounds the hospital. Part of the wall was broken and windows in the car were shattered.

THE AMERICAN STANDARD OF FERTILIZER EXCELLENCE

Good Crop Assurance

Of the making of brands of fertilizer there are many (good, bad and indifferent) but buyers tell us "Baugh's is supreme."

Farmers and planters of every important section of the United States prefer the Baugh make, because it is known to them as the old Stand-By in the fertilizer line.

As it has been used for several generations, it has stood the test of time.
